American Graffiti (1973): Popular coming-of-age tale profiles two college-bound California high schoolers' final wild evening out. Its breezy atmospherics, classic soundtrack are sheer delight for backward-looking baby boomers and fans of nostalgic comedy/dramas. Runtime: 115 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG

American Wedding: Third installment of the popular screwball-comedy follows the gang as they get together again to celebrate Jim and Michelle's wedding, but not before they throw the ultimate bachelor party. Runtime: 103 minutes MPAA Rating: R - for sexual content, language and crude humor.

Anastasia (1997): Glossy, Disney-esque animated musical follows the tumultuous life of a Russian princess. Sumptuous production values and wistful romance may draw mainstream audiences, despite insubstantial characters and historical distortions. Runtime: 90 minutes. MPAA Rating: G

Bad Boys II: Explosion-riddled action-comedy sequel tracks Miami narcotics detectives Burnett and Lowrey as they investigate a high-stakes influx of ecstasy and the corruption and violence that surrounds it. Runtime: 146 minutes. MPAA Rating: R - for strong violence and action, pervasive language, sexuality and drug content.

Cabin Fever: Classic tale of 5 college friends spending a weekend at a remote mountain cabin when one of them gets infected with a flesh-eating virus. Fueled by paranoia and hostility, they struggle to survive the virus and each other. Runtime: 94 minutes. MPAA Rating: R - for strong violence and gore, sexuality, language and brief drug use.

Dickie Roberts: Former Child Star: Meet Dickie Roberts, former '70s-TV star who is now 35 and parks cars for a living. Desperately seeking new stardom, he auditions for a role as a "normal" guy, but the director quickly sees that he's anything but normal. In an attempt to win the part he hires a family to help him replay his childhood. Runtime: 99 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG-13 - for crude and sex-related humor, language and drug references

Finding Nemo – G. Clownfish, Marlin and Nemo, become separated in the Great Barrier Reef, and little Nemo ends up in a fish tank. Grief-stricken, Marlin goes on a wild adventure to find and rescue his son.

Freaky Friday. Remake of the 1976 Disney classic of the same title, this family favorite is about a mother and her teenage daughter who are constantly arguing with each other, until one very weird Friday morning when they switch bodies and experience what it's like to be in the other person's shoes. Runtime: 96 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG - for mild thematic elements and some language.

Freddy vs. Jason The ultimate battle of the forces of evil clash when silent stalker Jason Vorhees takes on dream master Freddy Kruger. The All-Star movie of the horror genre. Runtime: 97 minutes. MPAA Rating: R - for pervasive strong horror violence/gore, gruesome images, sexuality, drug use and language.

Grind (2003): Four skateboard kids follow the summer tour of their idol from Chicago to California in the hopes to get noticed and become pros themselves. (Warner Bros.) MPAA Rating: PG-13 - for crude humor, sexual content and language.

Jeepers Creepers 2: Horror sequel sees an indestructible supernatural cannibal return to munch and mutilate the high-school students of a rural Midwestern community. The difference? This time the "creeper" has brought two equally hungry friends from the netherworld. Runtime: 106 minutes. MPAA Rating: R - for horror violence and language.

Johnny English. Starring: Rowan Atkinson, John Malkovich. Loopy spy spoof follows a bumbling British secret agent in his attempt to foil the theft of the Crown Jewels and save England from being taken over by a French tycoon. Runtime: 88 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG - for comic nudity, some crude humor and language.

The Land Before Time (1988): Orphaned baby dinosaur finds adventure and friendship while seeking legendary valley sanctuary. Youngsters identify with childlike characters and familiar predicaments. Suspense, action elements may attract older family members. Ages 4-8. Runtime: 71 minutes. MPAA Rating: G

The Little Mermaid (1989): Acclaimed animated musical reworks Andersen's fairy tale about a mermaid who longs to live in the human world. Appealing characters and vibrant pop score thrill kids, drown out purists' objections. Runtime: 83 minutes. MPAA Rating: G

Mary Poppins (1964): Much-loved, upbeat children's musical fantasy about a magical London nanny. With its still-appealing songs, characters, and animation, this is ideal entertainment for younger children. Runtime: 139 minutes. MPAA Rating: G

Matchstick Men: An anxious con artist is on the verge of pulling off a lucrative swindle with his partner and protégé when his teenage daughter, he never knew he had, arrives unexpectedly and jeopardizes his very-organized and controlled life. Runtime: 116 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG-13 - for thematic elements, violence, some sexual content and language.

The Medallion (2003): A Hong Kong cop (Jackie Chan) is transformed into an immortal warrior with superhuman powers after a fatal accident involving a mysterious medallion. With the help of a British agent, he's determined to find out about the secret of the medallion. At the same time, he must deal with a notorious villain who wants the magical medallion for his own purposes. Runtime: 90 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG-13 - for action violence and some sexual humor.

Midnight Run (1988): Much-loved action-comedy about a burnt-out bounty hunter dragging a mob accountant across America. Its witty dialogue, slam-bang action, and fast pace make it a huge hit among a wide range of tastes. Runtime: 125 minutes. MPAA Rating: R

The Mighty Ducks (1992): Disney's young adult comedy about Yuppie coaching inner-city kids' hockey team. Critics were tepid, calling approach formulaic, but this is a light entertainment vehicle for families, fans of inspirational stories. Runtime: 100 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG

Muppet Treasure Island: Send-up of classic adventure tale will have those seeking suspense or character development fidgeting. But fans of previous Muppet movies will enjoy the familiar cast and off-kilter, zany dialogue. Runtime: 99 minutes. MPAA Rating: G

Once Upon a Time in Mexico: In the third installment of Robert Rodriguez' desperado trilogy, El Mariachi is recruited by a shady CIA agent to take on a mighty drug cartel leader who plans to assassinate the Mexican president. Runtime: 102 minutes. MPAA Rating: R - for strong violence, and for language.

The Order: Spiritual horror movie about a young priest tracking down the Sin Eater, a mysterious being who absolves evildoers of their crimes, allowing heinous atrocities to go unpunished by God. Runtime: 102 minutes. MPAA Rating: R - for violent images, sexuality and language.

Pokemon 5. Rated G.

The Rescuers Down Under (1990): A young boy calls on a rescue crew of tiny rodents after being kidnapped by an evil poacher set on capturing and destroying the world's endangered species. Runtime: 77 minutes. MPAA Rating: G

Seabiscuit: Based on Laura Hillenbrand's best-selling novel, this true story focuses on three very different men who bring a knobby-kneed, undersized horse to incredible heights. Runtime: 140 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG-13 - for language, some sexual situations, and violent sports-related.

Secondhand Lions: Coming-of-age comedy set in 1960s Texas, follows a teenager who is forced to spend the summer with his eccentric and wealthy two uncles, whose exotic memories and stories stir the boy's spirit and re-ignite the men's lives. Runtime: 111 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG - for thematic material, language and action violence.

Spy Kids 3-D: Game Over: Third installment of the popular kid-agents series lets our under-age spies Carmen and Juni travel into the third dimension to battle the crazy villain Toymaker. Runtime: 89 minutes MPAA Rating: PG - for action sequences and peril.

The Sure Thing (1985): Endearing road comedy about ride-sharing college students bickering their way into romance. Though the oft-imitated plot holds few surprises, its snappy repartee, charismatic leads remain enjoyable for the lovestruck and 80's-obsessed. Runtime: 94 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG-13

S.W.A.T. (2003): Based on the short-lived '70s TV series of the same name, the movie profiles a veteran S.W.A.T. officer and his team as they protect a high-profile criminal. Runtime: 110 minutes. MPAA Rating: PG-13 - for violence, language and sexual references.

Wild Things (1998): Steamy, often-funny thriller about detective investigating school counselor's relationship with two sultry students. Its gleeful trashiness, plentiful sex will thrill neo-noir fans, though the twisting plot may confuse inattentive viewers. Runtime: 108 minutes. MPAA Rating: R
